PROGRAM NAME

NC Senior Driver

WEBSITE

LEAD AGENCY

UNC Highway Safety Research Center

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

NCSeniorDriver.org offers information tailored to different audiences: caregivers, professionals, and drivers. The website offers evidence-based information on a variety of topics related to aging and driving. Additionally, the drivers section of the website invites interaction in order to increase the effectiveness and likelihood that the information will be translated into behavior change. This includes self-assessment of medical conditions that impact driving, making plans to stay safe on the road, and creating a driver planning agreement. Beyond disseminating information through the ncseniordriver.org website, team members present to older drivers on the topic of staying safe on the road, coordinate and support CarFit trainings and events throughout the state, and provide coordination and leadership for the NC Senior Driver Safety Coalition.
